

Acknowledgement -- and Farewell

It has been a privilege to serve as editor of Southern Rural Sociology for four years. I have been honored by your support and gratified by your hard work on behalf of the Journal. I want to take this occasion to thank you and extend my very best wishes and support to the new editor, Bob Moxley. I also want to acknowledge my debt to the colleagues listed below who have so generously given of their time to serve as reviewers for manuscripts submitted for volume 5.
