

Edward Jones Financial Advisor Summer Internship Program

As a student preparing for your career, it is important you find an opportunity that offers challenging work in a learning environment. With the Edward Jones Financial Advisor Internship Program, you will gain the knowledge and experience required to be a successful Financial Advisor at Edward Jones. As a Financial Advisor Intern, you will be teamed with a Financial Advisor host working from a single-advisor branch office.

Our Financial Advisors work one-on-one with clients to help them achieve their long-term financial goals. They enjoy all the benefits of independent business ownership but without incurring the risks and costs. Financial Advisors have the freedom to set their own schedules, choose clients and determine how they can deliver the exceptional, personalized service for which Edward Jones is known.

What does the Financial Advisor Internship Program entail?

- Experiences and activities to demonstrate what the work of a Financial Advisor looks and feels like
- Training and practice to develop the ability to meet and talk with people
- Full-time, 10-week internship program (40 hours per week)
- Hourly compensation plan

Who Should Apply

- Students completing their junior or senior college year (with one semester remaining before graduation) are eligible to apply. Applicants need a minimum GPA of 3.0
- Candidates who demonstrate a drive to succeed and have a strong interest in pursuing the Financial Advisor career after graduation
- Students with excellent leadership, communication, teamwork and service skills
